LAKE RESCUE TEEN IN FIGHT FOR LIFE

A HARLOW teenager is fighting for his life after he got into trouble while swimming in a lake.

The 18-year-old disappeared beneath the surface of the central lagoon, off Meadgate Road, Nazeing, shortly before 5pm on Sunday.

Police, firefighters, paramedics and the air ambulance were called to the scene but before they arrived the young man was pulled from the water by Martin Wood, a windsurfing coach from nearby Broxbourne Sailing Club.

Although his identity has not been released officially, the Star understands his name is Lawrence Patnell. A few hours before the tragedy he had posted a message on his Facebook page saying: "high-light of yesterday - saving two kids from drowning".

By DAN PHILLIPS

daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

Friends have laid bunches of flowers at the scene and several have left messages on his Facebook page. One reads: "Get better Lawrence Patnell. Everyone's thinking of you" while another says: "Please get through this Lawrence".

As the Star went to press yesterday (Wednesday), a spokeswoman for Princess Alexandra Hospital where the teenager is being treated in the intensive care unit described his condition as critical.

Mr Wood (44) said: "We were packing up at the end of the day when some girls came into the compound shouting for a rope, saying 'He's gone under'."

July start for fire safety works on Berecroft homes

By CHRIS MOSS

chris.moss@hertsexnews.co.uk

RESIDENTS living on the fire-hit Berecroft estate have been given assurances that work to improve the safety of their homes will start "as soon as possible".

Around 40 people attended a public meeting on Friday where representatives from South Anglia Housing Association, which owns the majority of the 316 properties on the estate, presented a clear timetable for work to be completed.

Letters had already been sent out to all residents advising them of the findings of an independent survey of properties undertaken by chartered surveyors MMBL and listing the proposed improvements.

The association will start replacing the roofs on all terraced homes in July – a project which is expected to take around a year to complete – following consultations with residents.

In addition, most properties will also have sections of blockwork repaired or replaced, correct fire stopping provided, thermal insulation within lofts upgraded and new guttering installed.

The new roof coverings will also incorporate 'sacrificial' fire vents, while fire breaks will be provided within soffits.

Chris Ellison, managing director of South Anglia Housing, told the Star: "We are really pleased to confirm we are on track with the timings agreed by the steering group."

"We are confident that the proposed solutions will be industry-leading and give our residents the peace of mind that their homes are safe and secure."

"The proposed solution to improve the protection between houses will mean that roofs on terraced homes will have to be removed to give access to the properties, but this will not affect the bungalows on the estate as they are not attached to adjacent properties."

FLASHBACK: Firefighters at this month's blaze (photo: Essex County Fire & Rescue Service)

A team made up of staff from both MMBL and the housing association have been on site in Berecroft since Monday discussing the proposals with residents and will continue calling at homes until tomorrow (Friday).

Harlow MP Rob Halfon, who sat on the panel at Friday's public meeting, told the Star he welcomed the announcement that work would start imminently.

"Although the building works will take up to 10 months – after a year of delays – at least something is now happening," he said.

"As I said to residents at the meeting, I and the steering group will be watching like hawks to ensure that South Anglia deliver on their promises."

Conservative councillor Lee Dangerfield, who lives at Berecroft and is a member of the steering committee tasked with overseeing the project's delivery, added: "I am glad that at long last we appear to finally be making progress and residents should soon be seeing the long-awaited improvements carried out to their homes."

"It is just a shame we have had to wait so long for action to be taken."

Fellow steering committee member and Liberal Democrat councillor John Strachan said he hoped Harlow Council would now look at properties elsewhere in the town with potentially similar design flaws.

"I'm pleased that work will soon start in Berecroft and hopefully the council will now check whether homes on other estates require similar improvements to make them safer."

Ethics, Rats and Hard Cash

MEPs voted in favour of allowing the EU to interfere in the deontological policies of businesses despite not knowing what the word meant (moral and ethical systems).

The EU introduced proposals to ban the ten most commonly found active ingredients in rat poisons. Alternatives are hopelessly inadequate and leave us wide open to uncontrolled increases in rat populations.

The Parliament voted to lend Ukraine £450m on top of the £100m already lent. The UK taxpayer will fund this disproportionately. Green, Lib Dem, Labour and nearly all Conservative MEPs voted in favour.

I attended a most worrying seminar on Turkey, a candidate country for EU membership. We were told it has very insecure borders and is undergoing an Islamification of its civil service.

Scissor stab attacker's sickening confession

A VIOLENT sadist told police he got a thrill from the sound of stabbing his housemate in a sickening attack with a pair of scissors.

Peter Lefort (42), of Northbrooks, Harlow, was made the subject of an indefinite hospital order after pleading guilty to the attempted murder of Paul Crossman in June 2008.

Judge Charles Gratwick said he would remain in secure accommodation until he was no longer a risk to the community.

Chelmsford Crown Court heard how Lefort plunged a pair of scissors into his victim's back. He later told police: "I enjoyed the sound of the scissor blades as I lifted them against his flesh and bone."

Nicola May, prosecuting, said Mr Crossman had discharged himself from hospital four days after the incident, despite suffering a collapsed lung and a wound which measured six inches deep and two inches wide.

Both men, who were friends at the time of the attack, lived at the same house. Mr Crossman had been sitting outside with two other tenants shortly before the attack.

The court was told that during the attack Mr Crossman felt a heavy blow to his right shoulder and fell forward. Miss May said Lefort had twisted the scissors in Mr Crossman's body before kicking his screaming victim repeatedly in the head as he rolled into a ball to protect himself.

Soon afterwards he was seen walking away with blood on him. The scissors were found in long grass at the premises.

An eyewitness to the attack said Lefort had threatened to kill Mr Crossman and had "looked like a footballer taking a penalty kick" as he kicked his head.

During a police interview, Lefort said he had suffered "psychological bullying" at the premises and had felt he was being treated like a child after having been given money to buy himself tobacco.

The court heard he had previous convictions including a similar attack on another man from behind. He had been jailed for five years for that offence.

Ronald Jaffer, representing Lefort, said in mitigation the defendant was suffering from a mental illness at the time. Although still ill, he had now improved and had "some insight" into what he had done.

Tragedy of 'routine' op that went wrong

A HARLOW man died a few weeks after undergoing what should have been routine surgery to remove his appendix, an inquest was told.

Robert Brown (48), of Old Road, attended Princess Alexandra Hospital in April 2006 complaining of stomach pains and was diagnosed with appendicitis.

During an operation to remove his appendix, Mr Brown was placed under general anaesthetic but was inadequately ventilated for around 14 minutes and suffered irreversible brain damage.

He died on June 8, 2006 at Northwick Park Hospital in Harlow.

The inquest, held at Chelmsford, heard there had been a delay in concluding the case because of legal proceedings involving PAH which have now been concluded.

Representatives from the Harlow hospital attended the resumed inquest in Chelmsford but gave no evidence.

Essex coroner Caroline Beasley-Murray recorded a narrative verdict, simply setting out the facts.

"What appeared to be a straightforward general anaesthetic for an appendectomy operation went seriously wrong with cardiac arrest occurring," she said.

"It would appear he was inadequately ventilated for about 14 minutes which caused irreversible brain damage."

"Mr Brown was transferred to Northwick Park Hospital but his condition deteriorated and he died on June 8, 2006."

Careers day is just the ticket for jobseekers

HELP was on hand yesterday (Wednesday) for people looking for a new job.

Representatives from 14 bodies were giving advice at the first careers day to be held at Harlow Library, in Broad Walk.

Local employers, the Armed Forces and recruitment agencies took part, as did learning providers including Harlow College.

LearnDirect, which is based in the library, also offered its services which include help with maths and English skills and advice on job interview technique.

Newly elected Harlow MP Robert Halfon dropped in to see for himself the support being provided.

Duncan Mackay, senior customer service assistant at the library, said: "We decided to hold this event for the first time because of the current financial climate."

"A lot of people are losing their jobs so it seemed like a good time to offer help – and it had a good response."

Bins left in stairwells spark fire safety fears

RESIDENTS living in blocks of flats could be putting their lives at risk by storing recycling bins inside.

Harlow Council has issued the warning after discovering that some people living in residential blocks are storing their bins in communal stairwell areas rather than outside, posing a potential fire hazard.

Recycling crews have now moved the bins back outside and the council will be sending letters to residents advising them of the dangers of taking them back indoors.

Lee Dangerfield, chairman of the council's housing committee, said: "Some bins are being kept in communal stair areas by residents and we strongly advise that they do not bring the bins back inside."

"Fire safety in our blocks of flats is a key priority for the council following the tower block fire in London last year."

"If kept inside the bins could block escape routes or accelerate a fire."

Residents can contact the council on (01279) 446655 if they are unhappy with the location of their recycling bins.

Library treasure hunt to explore county's history

EXPLORERS young and old are being invited to take part in an Indiana Jones-style treasure hunt at Essex libraries during the school half-term break.

Harlow Library is one of 12 which will host historical artefacts on loan from Colchester and Ipswich Museums so that visitors can learn how their ancestors lived in years gone by.

Each venue will host either a Roman themed exhibition or a Tudor and Stuart display depicting the Siege of Colchester amongst other historic Essex events, with a trail around the library to allow people to explore the county's vibrant history.

Visitors can have their photo taken with a life-sized Indiana Jones cutout or test their bravery with the libraries' mysterious feely boxes.

Jeremy Lucas, Essex County Council's cabinet member for heritage, culture and the arts, said: "While our county is overflowing with exciting places to visit, Essex libraries are providing an excellent opportunity for adults, children and the whole family to explore the history of our county and discover Essex's past."

The hidden treasure event takes place at Harlow Library from 1-3pm on Sunday.

Teen found hanged in prison cell faced deportation

A SUDANESE teenager given temporary accommodation in Harlow after fleeing the genocide in Darfur took his own life after being told he would be deported back to the war-torn African state, an inquest was told.

Joker Hagar Idris, whose birth name was Abdullah, was found hanged in his cell at Chelmsford Prison on Christmas Day 2007.

He originally told the authorities he was 15 when he arrived illegally in the UK in May 2006, but Essex Social Services later assessed his age as 17 and calculated his birth date as March 1, 1989.

They provided him with accommodation and support in Harlow and he was given discretionary leave to remain until he was 18. But in November 2007 he was sentenced to 12 months custody for an offence of affray in Harlow in July 2007.

He was due to be released on January 7 2008 having spent several months on remand, but on Christmas Eve he received a letter from the UK Border Agency stating he should be deported at the end of his sentence.

The following morning, prison staff discovered his body hanging from a rope of torn bedsheets attached to the bars of his cell window.

Essex coroner Caroline Beasley-Murray, sitting in Chelmsford, told the jury at the start of the inquest the hearing would be investigating the broader issues surrounding the teenager's death.

"Most particularly we will be looking at whether the state authorities did or didn't do all they should have done to protect Joker Idris's life and prevent his death."

His parents were not present at the inquest as they still live in Sudan, but the family are legally represented, as are HM Prison Service and Essex Social Services.

The hearing continues.

Cabinet system on the cards in council shake-up

ANDREW JOHNSON

By CHRIS MOSS
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

HARLOW Council's ruling Conservative administration has taken its first step towards adopting a cabinet-style system of local government after announcing a restructure of the current committee set-up.

At Tuesday's annual council meeting, Tory councillors successfully pushed through proposals to combine the functions of the housing, policy & resources and environment & community committees into one new executive committee.

The executive will be assisted by five policy working groups – resources, housing, environment, community & citizenship and regeneration & enterprise – which in turn will be supported by working parties and/or panels.

Council leader Andrew Johnson told the meeting the new system would streamline the decision-making process and signal a move towards a more "honest, open and accountable" style of local government.

"There are many benefits to the enhanced committee system we are currently using, but one of the main drawbacks is that members of the public find it difficult to understand why it can take so long to make decisions", he told the meeting.

"Democracy should be open, honest, accountable and swift, and the new streamlined executive committee system will hopefully mean swift and better decision making."

But Cllr Johnson added: "I make no secret of the fact that one of the first things I will bring before this new structure is a consultation towards moving to a full cabinet structure."

The cabinet system – currently used in around 90 per cent of local authorities across the country – is similar in structure to the current set-up in Westminster. But critics of its use at a local level claim it is undemocratic and restricts the influence of opposition councillors.

Before it can be adopted in Harlow, however, the plans will have to go out to full consultation with both opposition members and the public.

Labour councillor Jean Clark claimed adopting a cabinet structure would result in "too much power vested in too few people" and lead to opposition members becoming disenfranchised with the decision-making process.

Liberal Democrat group leader Chris Millington echoed his Labour counterpart, adding that he was disappointed opposition councillors had only been given three days to look over the proposals before being asked to vote on them.

Turning his attention to the committee restructure, he said: "There is going to be a huge workload for the new executive committee, so I really fail to see how this will result in decisions being made quicker unless we sacrifice proper debate and discussion."

Councils in service-sharing talks

HARLOW Council is considering entering a service-sharing partnership with neighbouring Uttlesford Council, the Star can reveal.

The authorities are currently exploring the possibility of entering into a shared service partnership for council tax, business rates and benefits services, although talks are understood to be at a very early stage.

A detailed feasibility study will have to be carried out before any partnership is forged. Harlow Council leader Andrew Johnson, stressed that any deal struck between the authorities would not involve the sharing of chief executive's tasks.

"In these difficult financial times councils across the country are exploring different ways to provide services," he said. "In Harlow we are looking to lead the way by exploring innovative opportunities to work with neighbouring councils to share services. By sharing services we may potentially be able to improve services for residents and save money."

Subject to the results of the feasibility study, which is expected to be carried out this summer, it is anticipated the partnership could come into operation from April 1, 2011.

HARLOW FIELDS SCHOOL & COLLEGE: The Tendring Road school for young people with special needs celebrated its change of name with a ribbon-cutting ceremony. Former EastEnders actress Anita Dobson and Imelda Redmond, chief executive of Carers UK, were invited to do the honours.

The new name is intended to demonstrate the school's aspiration to provide education to students aged 19 and over. A spokeswoman said: "The launch ceremony attracted many parents, governors and staff while pupils read poems about the school and introduced guests to new play facilities."

RUM TUM TUGGERS: The Toddlers and staff at the Riddings Lane pre-school surprised nursery assistant Maureen Jones with a spectacular 70th birthday party.

The youngsters showed their crafty side by decorating the nursery with balloons and streamers and making cards, cakes and a book of tributes. The tots then hid away before leaping out and surprising Maureen when she arrived for work.

Nursery director Jill Pascale said: "The children put a lot of time and effort into making Maureen's birthday party one to remember and she was absolutely thrilled. "She's a much-valued member of the team who is always there to help and support the staff and children whenever necessary. We're very lucky to have her!"

PASSMORES: Year 11 design and technology students at the Tendring Road secondary school proudly showed off their innovative creations at an open exhibition evening.

Featuring dazzling work in the fields of textiles, catering, graphics, electronics and resistive materials, the evening was attended by around 200 students, parents, teachers and governors and culminated in a prizegiving ceremony.

A school spokeswoman said: "We are very fortunate to have extensive facilities with some of the most up-to-date equipment."

"The event was held not only to celebrate the achievements of Year 11 students but to inspire younger students to achieve similarly in the future."

"Many people commented that the quality of the work produced had improved from the previous year."

SPINNEY INFANTS: Pupils at the Cook's Spinney primary school became big cats for the day when they raised money for wildlife charity Save The Tiger.

The children painted their faces and donned stripey outfits as they learnt all about the plight of the threatened species.

They also took in donations to support the charity's efforts to improve and expand conservation efforts that help preserve the tiger's natural habitat in parts of Asia.

MP welcomes climbdown on runway plans

By DAN PHILLIPS

daniel.phillips@hertsexnews.co.uk

THE announcement by airport operator BAA that it is scrapping plans for a second runway at Stansted has been welcomed by Harlow MP Robert Halfon.

The airport's managing director, David Johnston, said the decision to shelve expansion plans had been taken as a result of a change of policy on air travel.

"We have reflected carefully on the new Government's clear intention to change its airports policy and have moved quickly to withdraw this application," said Mr Johnston.

Mr Halfon said the decision, announced on Monday, was long overdue.

"The Conservatives have said for a long time that we would scrap the proposals which have done nothing but blight a huge swathe of our countryside and local villages," he said.

"Hastingwood, Matching, Nazeing, Roydon and Sheering have all been affected by planes flying overhead while people living closer to the airport have had their lives put on hold until they knew what was going to happen to their homes.

"Now villagers can start getting on with their lives."

Mr Halfon said he believed a second runway was no longer necessary because of dwindling passenger numbers and a drop in the amount of flights to and from the airport.

"I've said time and time again that

ROBERT HALFON: "I've said time and time again that there is no need for second runway"

there is no need for second runway," he added. "Now those views have finally been taken on board by BAA."

Members of the campaign group Stop Stansted Expansion held a party on Tuesday to mark the end of their seven-year battle to block the project.

A spokesman said this week: "The second runway planning application had taken BAA more than four years to prepare and cost the airport operator some £200m. However, this is just a fraction of the cost to local homeowners in terms of the property blight which has plagued the local area for the past eight years, destroying the value of people's homes but worse still, destroying long established communities."

"Whilst we are delighted that BAA has finally faced up to realities and withdrawn its planning application, this is tinged with sadness and anger over the unnecessary damage which has been inflicted upon the area and the anguish that has been caused to so many local communities."

SSE said BAA and any future owner of the airport should now be prohibited from building a second runway at Stansted for at least 50 years.

However, Mr Johnston said: "Stansted Airport is a key driver of economic growth in this part of England and we will continue to work hard to bring new business here and to work with our neighbours and the wider community to provide jobs and strong business and travel opportunities in the months and years ahead."

"We continue to believe that new airport capacity is needed in the south east to strengthen the UK's international trading links."

Cigarette litterbug hit with a £535 bill

A CRACKDOWN on litterbugs dropping cigarette butts in the street has caught another culprit.

A man from Bishop's Stortford was fined £60 and ordered to pay costs amounting to £475 after being prosecuted as part of the clean-up crusade by Harlow Council.

The case went to court after the man failed to pay a fixed penalty fine of £80.

Harlow magistrates heard the offence took place on December 10 last year. The man was seen by a council-employed clean neighbourhood enforcement officer throwing down his cigarette outside Willowfield Tower.

As he made no attempt to pick it up he was issued with the fixed penalty notice.

Despite being sent reminders he failed to pay the fines and so the case was taken to court. The man failed to appear at last week's hearing and the case was proved in his absence.

Speaking after the hearing, councillor Tony Hall, chairman of the council's environment & community committee, said: "We will take action against anyone making our town look untidy by littering."

"Cigarette butts can be extremely difficult to clear up and this costs both time and council taxpayers' money. Dropping a cigarette butt is not a petty act as it contributes hugely to the amount of litter on our streets."

"We want to change the image of our town and there are a few people whose attitude to littering needs to change. I hope this example will make those few stop and think."

"Smokers should use a stubbie pouch or put out their cigarettes fully before placing them in the nearest litter bin."

Launch Pad could turn your business dream into reality

BUDDING local entrepreneurs are being given their very own chance to make their business dreams come true.

This week sees the start of Launch Pad, a competition supported by the Star to find someone from the Harlow and surrounding area with a winning business idea.

It is open to anyone over the age of 16 living in Harlow or the surrounding district (including Epping, North Weald, Sawbridgeworth, Bishop's Stortford and Stansted) who has a business idea they believe could be the next big thing.

The winner will receive dedicated mentoring, advice and guidance from each of the expert judges to support them in successfully launching their business idea. The Star will be covering the whole competition including a feature on the winner and their idea.

This support and publicity is worth in excess of £15,000, a sum out of reach of most small business start-ups.

What is Launch Pad?

Launch Pad is a competition for budding entrepreneurs to showcase their business ideas to a panel of experts.

They will present their concepts and these will be streamed online for members of the public to vote for their favourite. Each week one idea will be selected for a place in the grand final, where the judges will select an overall winner.

Where did Launch Pad come from?

Launch Pad was the brainchild of Robert Ellice, a local entrepreneur who, having grown up and worked in the area, wanted to provide a platform for people from the district to showcase their business ideas and have the opportunity to develop and turn them into reality.

The project was brought to life by Bryan Hunt who, through his own experiences of working in the local area, understood the importance of providing new opportunities for people in and around Harlow.

Bryan has been working on the Launch Pad concept for many months and has brought together a number of local businesses and organisations to provide additional expertise, skills and support.

Through their relationships with leading local business figures, Robert and Bryan have put together a panel of experts who will be able to provide local people with the chance to gain invaluable support and advice to help them develop and progress their business ideas.

The project also involves Harlow College, where students are providing media support and skills to take the business ideas online through video.

Both Robert and Bryan are dedicated to supporting their local community and providing a commitment to the future development of the area. Launch Pad is about recognising the value of great ideas and enabling them the chance to become the next big thing by providing that first foot on the ladder of success.

Who can take part?

Launch Pad is open to anyone over the age of 16 from Harlow and the surrounding district who has a business idea that they believe

Meet the judging panel

The panel of experts have been hand-picked to represent local business leaders from a cross section of expertise. All will bring their own invaluable skills to the process and to help launch the winning idea. They are:

ROBERT ELLICE
Managing Director
Clarke Hillyer

JONATHAN CLARKE
Senior Partner
Attwaters Solicitors

MARK WILLIAMSON
Relationship Manager
Lloyds TSB

JON O'SHEA
Partner, Haslers
Chartered Accountants

CHRIS GREENHILL
Co-founder, Harlow
Business Mentors

IAN HUDSON
vice chairman, Harlow
Chamber of Commerce

could be the next big thing.

What do we want?

Innovation, strong business thinking and an idea that is going to be a major success and fill a gap in the market. This can be a new business, product or service or even a 'not for profit' concept.

What are the judges looking for?

The judges are ready to listen to a pitch for any kind of business, but they must be convinced that there is a place for it in the market and that it will be a success. The strongest pitches will demonstrate:

- A unique selling point or place in the market: an idea that serves a need like nothing else.
- Scalability: something that can be scaled up to make real money or benefit a growing number of people
- Route to market: a clear way the idea can be delivered and marketed

How will it work?

All applicants will be reviewed and a shortlist of the strongest ideas will be drawn up. The candidates will then be invited to present their concepts to the panel of experts. Their presentations will be filmed by media course students from Harlow College and then uploaded on to the Launch Pad website, designed by PurelyMarketing.com. Members of the public will be invited to view the videos and vote for their favourite ideas.

Each week the candidate with the greatest number of votes will win a place in the grand final.

Once all the finalists have been selected, they will get the chance to present to the judges again and this time it will be the judges who decide which of the ideas they believe will be the next big thing.

Who are the sponsors?

It is through the support and backing of a number of local organisations that Launch Pad has gone from a concept to a reality. Thanks goes to the generosity and support of the Launch Pad sponsors:

- Harlow Renaissance
- Harlow see something different
- NWES at the Harlow Enterprise Hub

How to enter

Application forms can be completed online or downloaded to print and post. Log on to the dedicated Launch Pad website at www.launchpad-harlow.org to apply and to check out full details of the terms and conditions.

Pub's charity bash for HFH

By CHRIS MOSS

chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

ONE-day sales, wonky shelves and bags of nails - the Bank Holiday weekend is soon upon us but why not forego the DIY for once and have some fun for a good cause instead?

Festival fever hits Harlow on Sunday when The Golden Swift pub, in Harberts Road, hosts an all-day live music extravaganza in aid of Armed Forces charity Help For Heroes.

With a line-up featuring the cream of local musical talent, a mouth-watering barbecue, fun activities for children and a range of merchandise stalls selling everything from T-shirts to CDs, organisers and gig headliners The Noxious Toyz, pictured above right, promise there will be something for everyone at the family-friendly event.

Lead singer Stief Brett said: "Help For Heroes has always been a cause that I and the rest of the band believe in strongly, and when the opportunity to put on a benefit gig came up we jumped at the chance."

As well as Stief's own band, the lineup includes local rockabilly rebels The Ladykillers, Mancunian rockers Six10Repeater and Finnish psychobilly band Multi-Climex.

"We've got a really good, eclectic line-up of bands who all wanted to help raise money for the charity, as well as a load of your typical fun-day activities and a barbecue, so there really will be something for everyone," said Stief.

Entry to the event, which is due to start at around 1pm, is free although gig-goers will be encouraged to make a generous donation to Help For Heroes.

"It's going to be a great day of music, food and laughs that will hopefully raise a decent amount of money for a very worthy cause," said Stief. "What more could you want from your Bank Holiday?"

County in bid to find more foster carers

ESSEX County Council is looking for more than 100 new foster carers for vulnerable children in desperate need of a loving family life.

As part of national Foster Care Fortnight, the authority is challenging residents to consider whether they have what it takes to become a foster parent.

There are currently 120 children in the county waiting for a foster placement. Sarah Candy, cabinet member for children's services, said: "It's time for those people in Essex who are willing to open their households to stop thinking about fostering and come and talk to us."

"Children in Essex deserve to grow up in a stable, loving household and there are people in Essex that can provide this security. We must do all we can as a community to support our foster children."

"Recruiting more foster carers so we can match our children with local carers is an important priority and so, in this year's budget, Essex County Council pledged to recruit more foster carers and improve the support we offer them."

Financial benefits and a carer's fee are available and training and support is provided to ensure foster carers are supported through out their fostering experience. To find out more, call 0800 801 530 or visit the website at www.essex.gov.uk/fostering.

Cash donation to buy trolleys

MEMBERS of Harlow's Chinese community have been busy raising money to buy new equipment for Princess Alexandra Hospital's A&E department.

Regulars at the Chinese Community Centre, in Commonsidge Road, have donated £2,100 towards the purchase of two specialist trolleys for use in the resuscitation room.

The new equipment should be in place in the next few weeks. Jindy Burt, head of emergency services said: "We are very grateful for the support we have received from the local Chinese community."

"The community centre raised funds a couple of years ago to allow us to replace one of the three trolleys in the resuscitation room. They have now come back and provided us with funds to complete the set and purchase two more."

Simon's well-suited to take part in 10km run

A BROTHER and sister are donning penguin suits to p-p-p-pick up the pace in the BUPA 10km run on Bank Holiday Monday.

Simon Gumble (36), of Ridgeways, Harlow, and his sister Hazel (33), who lives in Ware, will be raising money for the Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation, a cause close to their hearts as Simon's daughter Rose suffers from the disease.

"I am a bit nervous about doing this as I have never done anything like this before and have completed about 20 runs in preparation," he said.

"It was originally my sister's idea to do the run and I hijacked her plan, but I came up with the idea of dressing up as the charity's penguin mascot!"

The foundation raises awareness and funds research to find a cure for the disease which Rose was diagnosed with at the age of three. She now needs an insulin pump 24 hours a day.

Her mum, Rebecca, said: "We try and enable Rose to have as normal childhood as possible so that she doesn't suffer the burden of carrying this adult disease on her shoulders.

"As a family we have entered a world that is unwelcome and unwanted but is absolutely necessary for Rose to survive."

Anyone who wants to sponsor Simon can do by visiting their website at www.justgiving.com/si-and-haze-on-the-run.

Sunseeker Steve in running to win top holiday prize

A HARLOW sunseeker has beaten thousands of other hopefuls to be in with a chance of winning his dream job as a holiday reviewer.

Steve Henson (56), of Fullers Mead, was browsing for a holiday when he stumbled across a competition offering one lucky person the chance to win 12 free holidays a year and a £20,000 cash prize.

Participants were asked to produce a two-minute video advertising any product they wanted and Mr Henson's tongue-in-cheek version of a mobile phone advert proved a hit with the judges.

He has now made it through to the final shortlist of 10 and, having recently lost his job at Stansted Airport, is hoping to win the competition and get his life back on track.

"I really believe that you have to be in it to win it," he said. "It did not cost me anything and I have nothing to lose."

His fate now lies in the hands of the public, who are being asked to vote online for their favourite finalist.

"My message to the voters is that they have a chance to help someone gain a job and stop claiming benefits," he said. "I will work for the holidays and not just sit around the pool drinking beer!"

"I think that the answer is to give the public what they want. I am willing to review anything. As I have said in my pledge, the public have everything to gain and nothing to lose."

Safety roadshow a hit with schoolkids

HUNDREDS of youngsters from schools throughout Harlow were given a timely warning on the dangers of carrying knives, taking drugs and drinking alcohol when a safety roadshow rolled into town.

Around 1,500 children aged 11 and 12 from nine local schools were given the opportunity to attend the fun-packed Essex Police 2SMART show at Harlow Sportcentre on Thursday.

They enjoyed live stunts performed by top UK mountain bike trick rider Rich Johnson, gravity-defying dance moves courtesy of Kayzar Dance and watched an action-packed show from two of the world's best freestyle basketball players, Big Fen and A2W.

But it wasn't all fun and games for the youngsters, who were also given important information to keep them safe as members of The London Bus Theatre Company acted out typical situations the pupils could face during adolescence.

Essex Police youth development co-ordinator Jo Van Zanten said: "2SMART is all about engaging with children and young people, teaching them important messages around alcohol, drugs, knives and bullying."

"We deliver these messages through a mixture of sport, dance, music, games and competitions."

"The show is unique and a great way to teach young people, especially as each group of performers had a personal experience to share."

● Pupils living in Essex are being encouraged to write a song for next year's 2SMART tour.

The roadshow team will judge all entries and select a winning entry which will be performed at all 2SMART shows next year.

Entries can be submitted on www.2smart.co.uk.

DEEP PURPLE

We're getting all fruity this summer with a rich regal palette drawn from the best nature has to offer. From damson to plum, aubergine to grape, why not indulge in a soft purple haze. Fishpools have been sourcing this seasons must-have colours and whether you're classic or contemporary they've got the look for you.

Designed to thrill, the cool curves and oversized scatters of the Felix Sofa show how sensational our purple tones can be. Used as an accent colour, it adds vibrancy to the dove grey tones of the clean Salamanca Corner Unit. Or tone it down with the elegant bow backed Cezanne Sofa in a rich palette of textured plains and velvets also featured on the matching Chaise Longue and the delicious Matisse Chair.

Winnie, our wartime leader and local MP

IT'S okay, you can come out of hiding now. The General Election is over and you can spend your evenings watching EastEnders in peace without fear of a politician hammering on your front door.

You can once again step outside without having to dodge the army of canvassers, pollsters or leafleters on a mission to persuade you how to vote.

But with apologies to those of you suffering from post general election fatigue, Nostalgia this week turns back the clock to a time when Harlow was represented by a man widely regarded as one of the greatest politicians this country has ever produced

In the years since Harlow became a Parliamentary constituency back in 1974 it has been represented in the House of Commons by Labour MPs Stan Newens and Bill Rammell and Conservatives Jerry Hayes and now

Robert Halfon.

But back before the creation of the New Town, the area came under the Parliamentary boundary of Epping. And there is one MP for Epping whose presence looms large over 20th century history.

In 1924 in the Epping 'division' of Essex, a certain Winston Spencer Churchill was elected to the House of Commons.

He went on to represent the Epping constituency for a further 21 years and served as Prime Minister from 1940-45. In the General Election of July 1945 he won the seat of neighbouring Woodford, while Leah Manning won Epping for Labour.

Churchill served as Prime Minister again from 1951-55. He was knighted in 1953 and died in January 1965.

● Do you remember Sir Winston Churchill visiting this area or conducting any of his constituency business? If you do, then write to Nostalgia, Harlow Star, 6 West Gate, Harlow, CM20 1JW or email daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk.

NOSTALGIA UPDATE: Harlow Carnival

DO you remember when Pearly Kings and Queens visited Harlow on carnival day?

This picture was sent in to Nostalgia by Tilbury Mead resident Nora Rengert, who believes the photograph dates back to the early 1960s.

"We used to have a carnival day where we would march from Bush Fair and then it would combine with the Town Show," she said

"Different groups would be invited to the town for the event.

"This is of the Pearly Kings and Queens taken in Market Square – that is where we used to congregate.

"They were happy, happy times. People used to look forward to it and there were never any problems."

● If you have any memories or photos you would like to share with our readers, send them to Nostalgia,

Factory blaze

Residents fled as a series of explosions turned chemicals into an inferno at Linpac's plastics factory in Staple Tye. Eyewitnesses saw four men running away from the factory and police are treating the fire as arson.

Owls' new home

Harlow Town FC has a new ground at The Pinnacles. The site is the Johnson Matthey sports ground in Roydon Road. The Owls have long been unhappy at their current home at the Sportcentre.

Nude must go

The first task of newly elected Harlow Council chairman Alan Jones will be to remove a painting of a nude woman from the wall of his room at the Town Hall. He told the Star that the painting was "in bad taste".

Sunday trade fear

Harlow could become a ghost town for small businesses if Sunday trading laws are passed, it was claimed. Bill Bird, of K & B Meats, Colt Hatch, said increased competition from supermarkets would be "the last nail in the coffin" for his business.

Gun printed on T-shirt sparked armed response

Mums get makeover for film shoot

MUMS who are members of a local group for parents of children with autism had a glamorous makeover yesterday (Wednesday) courtesy of students at Harlow College.

The group of 10 women from the Harlow branch of Parents of Autistic Children Together visited the college for hair and make-up sessions.

After spending time in the hair studio and the beauty therapy department, the group then had a photo shoot with photography students.

The pictures will be used by PACT Harlow to make a video for the website YouTube that aims to promote greater understanding of living with autism.

Paul Woods, from the college, said: "The group have a positive message and want to build a brighter future for their children."

"They originally came to the college some time ago to show a film called Horse Boy, which is about autism."

"That was very successful and so when they decided to make a film they came back to the college."

By COURT REPORTER

star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

POLICE officers armed with laser-sighted rifles were sent to Harlow town centre after reports that a man was carrying a gun.

But when they found the suspect they discovered the 'weapon' was nothing more than a design printed on his T-shirt, a court heard.

Matthew Durham (35) was wearing a T-shirt featuring a gun pointing downwards. When tucked into his trousers, it gave the impression of a weapon being holstered.

But the police response was not completely wasted because Durham, of The Maples, Harlow, told them he was carrying a lock-knife.

Richard Stevens, prosecuting at Chelmsford Crown Court, said Durham was seen in Harlow on January 16 this year. "At 9pm police were called and arrested him for something to do with a gun of which he was completely innocent," he told the court.

"He was asked if he had anything on him and he produced a knife, short in length of no more than four inches. A search of his home revealed cannabis in a bedside drawer."

Durham, who admitted charges of possessing a bladed article and £20 worth of cannabis, said he was carrying the knife because a one-legged friend had needed help replacing the rubber stops on the bottom of his crutch, an explanation described by the prosecution as "incredible" and by Judge Anthony Goldstaub as lacking credibility.

James Howard, representing Durham, said in mitigation his client had suffered from complex mental health problems for 18 years.

Durham was released on bail until June 14 to allow time for the preparation of pre-sentence reports.

Residents get a choice for bulky waste collection

HARLOW residents can now choose one of two options when booking a heavy squad collection for unwanted bulky household items.

Items will be collected free of charge but there could be a wait of around four weeks. However, the council is now offering a paid-for priority collection service within five working days.

Prices for the priority collection service are £11.75 for one-three items and £17.63 for four-eight items.

The maximum number of items which can be booked for each collection is eight.

All collections of large electronic and electrical items such as electric ovens and fridges remain free of charge.

To book a heavy squad collection, call Contact Harlow on (01279) 446655 or drop into the Civic Centre. Payment for the priority service must be made at the time of booking.

Bulky household items can also be taken to the recycling centre for household waste in River Way.

Tiny frog with a deadly touch

THERE'S one type of frog you definitely don't want to get stuck in your throat – the tiny but deadly Phantasmal poison frog!

These minuscule amphibians are one of the world's most dangerous creatures and can kill anyone who merely touches them.

The frogs, found on the western slopes of the Andes in Ecuador, South America, are so rare they are in danger of becoming extinct.

But 26 have now been born at the Blue Reef Aquarium in Portsmouth after a successful breeding programme.

When they reach adulthood, the frogs measure just 1cm and turn bright red in colour with three green fluorescent stripes on their back.

Their skin is 200 times more toxic than morphine, but medical experts believe the poison could one day be used in a diluted form as a powerful painkiller.

Aquarium spokeswoman Jenna MacFarlane said: "These beautiful frogs are under increasing threat in the wild due to loss of habitat and pollution and we are delighted to have been able to breed them successfully here."

"It's imperative we are able to mimic exactly their wild environment in order for the species to thrive in captivity and it's a real achievement they are breeding so successfully."

Happy Birthday

Lake rescue teen in a critical condition

Hazel Town, another club member who was at the scene, said of Mr Wood: "He went over and dived in, which was very brave of him as the water there is 15ft deep and very murky at the bottom, so he couldn't see."

After two failed attempts, an angler spotted bubbles rising to the surface, enabling Mr Wood to pinpoint the location of the teenager. He was able to grab his ankle and drag him to the surface.

When paramedics arrived, the teenager was in cardiac arrest and the crew carried out advance life support techniques before taking him to hospital. A critical care team accompanied him in the ambulance.

Mr Wood praised the efforts of a Lee Valley Park ranger and sailing club members who also came to offer their assistance and administer first aid. "A lot of people tried to help," he said.

He also warned of the dangers of swimming in the lake. "There are signs about but kids will be kids. They don't realise it's a totally different environment to a swimming pool."

A Lee Valley Regional Park Authority spokeswoman said: "We would remind visitors that it is not safe to swim in the lakes or rivers throughout the park as the waters are often deeper than they appear and can be difficult to climb out of."

"Water surrounding flood structures can be particularly dangerous as the water is moving and contains hidden currents. We would urge visitors not to enter the water under any circumstances."

Police release CCTV image of service station theft suspect

POLICE are appealing for help in identifying a man wanted for questioning in connection with the theft of a bottle of wine from a service station on Tilwicks Road, Harlow.

The incident occurred at 9.30pm on Monday, February 15, 2010.

The suspect is described as about 30 with brown hair. He was wearing a dark padded jacket and dark trousers.

Anyone with any information should contact PC Clive Singer at Harlow police station on 0300 333 4444 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Youth (17) charged with rape

A TEENAGER from Surrey has been charged with three counts of rape and two of sexual assault after a teenage girl was attacked in Harlow town centre.

The 17-year-old victim told police she was raped in an alleyway off Post Office Walk in the early hours of New Year's Day.

Shortly after the attack, police released CCTV images filmed at The Clubhouse nightclub in The Rows of three young men they wanted to speak to in connection with the incident.

The 17-year-old suspect appeared at Basildon Youth Court on Tuesday.

Festival filled with music and theatre

By CHRIS MOSS

chris.moss@hertssexnews.co.uk

MUDDY fields, dodgy cider, missing tent poles, irritating hippies and unlicensed burger vans. That's right, festival season has arrived and you can almost smell the portable toilets.

But why hand over buckets of your hard-earned cash for the privilege of having to fight your way through a throng of boozed-up punters just to catch a glimpse of your favourite band picking up their bumper appearance fees when you can kick back and watch a rock 'n' roll whirlwind unfold on your own doorstep?

Set in the spacious playing fields bordering the Great Parndon Community Association in Parsloe Road, LinkFest 2010 aims to bring an altogether more appetising taste of that unique festival atmosphere to the good people of Harlow.

Co-organised by The GPCA Link Club, local music venue The Square and drama school Phoenix, this one-day event takes place on Sunday, July 18 and will feature a star-studded musical line-up, a theatre tent, funfair, fully licensed bar and food stalls.

Co-organiser Jamie Pring, from The Link, said that if this year's inaugural festival proved to be a hit he hoped to make it an annual event.

"Harlow's been crying out for a music festival for a long time now,"

he said. "When you look at some of the great bands that keep cropping up in the town and see the number of people who regularly go to venues like The Link and The Square to watch live music, it doesn't take a genius to work out that the town is the ideal location for an annual music festival."

Big names already confirmed for the event include raucous rockers The Subways and proto-punk legends Eddie & The Hot Rods, while local next-big-things Bite and post-punk duo Popdad also feature on the bill.

The theatre tent will be compered by Phoenix Theatre School's principal Phil Dale and will showcase drama, dance and music from performing arts schools across the town.

Jamie added: "This is going to be a family-friendly event and we really will have something for everyone. Hopefully we can bring some of that unique festival magic to the town."

Tickets for LinkFest go on sale this weekend at Harlow Playhouse, priced at £10 for adults and £5 for under-12s.

School date for Jacko dance pair

STUDENTS at a Harlow dance school will get the chance to learn some of Michael Jackson's iconic moves when two of the late King of Pop's dancers drop in for an exclusive workshop next month.

Nick Bass and Misha Gabriel, who were both set to join Jackson on stage for the ill-fated This Is It tour before the singer's untimely death, will show off their skills at Makin' Steps on June 10.

As well as teaching the students some of the routines that would have been performed by Jackson, the American duo will also talk to the youngsters about working with the world's greatest pop star during the last months of his life.

Makin' Steps tutor Scott Simpson told the Star: "We are very lucky to have these guys coming over from America and feel very privileged that they asked Makin' Steps to be the school that they come and teach at."

"Many of our students had tickets to go and see the cancelled This Is It concert, so hopefully this event will be the next best thing."

The class will be the latest in a series of exclusive workshops with top international choreographers and dancers including Marty Kudelka, Shontyme and Kenny Wormald.

Scott added: "We are pleased that we are able to offer our students this amazing opportunity to dance with some of the best choreographers and dancers in the world."

>>DRAMA Harlow Theatre Company's dazzling new production of The Hollow Crown, John Barton's intriguing look at the lives and loves of the kings and queens of England, opens at Victoria Hall Theatre tonight (Thursday). The play starts at 8pm and tickets cost £8 (£6 concessions) from (01279) 420062.

>>MUSIC Harlow Chorus Academy perform their first official concert at St John's ARC in Old Harlow on Saturday afternoon. Featuring a varied programme of folk songs, spirituals, songs from musical theatre and sacred pieces from the standard choral repertoire, the performance begins at 3.30pm and admission is £5 (free for under 16s).

>>DRAMA Coronation Street's Rupert Hill joins Sarah Jayne Dunn from Hollyoaks in a hilarious stage adaptation of the Oscar-winning film When Harry Met Sally at The Playhouse. The feelgood tale of two New Yorkers who spend 12 years falling in love, this production also features a stunning soundtrack by jazz sensation Jamie Cullum. The show runs from Monday until Wednesday, with performances starting at 8pm. Tickets cost £18.

>>DRUMMING St John's ARC in Old Harlow hosts a drumming workshop on Thursday (June 3) morning. Open to anyone aged 10 upwards, the class offers participants the chance to try their hand at a variety of percussion instruments from around the world under the watchful eye of expert percussionist Graham Install. The workshop runs from 10am-noon and tickets cost £12 from (01279) 442447.

>>ART Visitors to The Gibberd Garden in Marsh Lane can enjoy a new exhibition of linoprints and screen-printed collages inspired by the Arcadian idyll by artist Vanessa Burroughes until June 30. The works are on display in the Gibberd Rooms at the main house and can be viewed on Wednesdays, Saturdays and Sundays from 3-5pm.

>>ART An intriguing exhibition of drawings continues at The Gallery at Parndon Mill until June 27. Drawing From Life explores a variety of different approaches to drawing, including studies taken from life class and depictions of plants and animals. Admission to the gallery is free.

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF). Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle. That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way. What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD). A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring BERR Environment Agency ATF permit number 80638

Town boss hopes to sign trio

>>Cont'd from back

"John can also play in midfield. John is passionate and a very technical player. He also has good vision."

Warren also hopes to sign a forward and a central midfielder player within the next week who have played at step three (equivalent to Ryman premier division). However, he could not name the players at this stage.

● FORMER Hawks chairman Simon Morgan has quit as Ware vice-chairman due to his workload after less than a year at the Ryman division one north club.

Meanwhile, ex-boss Glen Alzapiedi has quit Waltham Abbey. He has been replaced by former Hawks reserve team manager Paul Wickenden, the son of 1980s Harlow Town favourite Ray Wickenden.

IN BRIEF: Harlow gained their first win of the summer season at home to Berkhamsted in the Herts Squash League, division two. First string Ian Gould, just back from injury, lost his first set 12-15 but recovered to win the match 3-1, while second string Dave Gear also won. Keeley Peacock lost but Harlow won 2-1 overall. Harlow's second team won 2-1 at Potters Bar.

Great effort with broken bat!

Once again, the experienced Ian Russell stalled Harlow's progress as he made his way to a terrific unbeaten 125.

He received valuable assistance from Raymond Parkinson (30) and Aussie Daniel Trevillian (27) in stands of 112 and 75 for the third and fourth wickets.

Harlow bowled well in the final five overs and kept the home side down to 277-7.

McGarry (10-3-30-1) bowled well, while Khawaja took 3-35.

In reply, Harlow's opening pair of Rehman Ahmed and Nino Calvino put on 27 before the latter was trapped lbw by Josh Peters for 11.

This brought Sri Lankan Khawaja to the crease and he carried on his supreme early season form, making his way to 50 in brisk fashion.

A middle-order wobble left Luke Heskett at the crease with Khawaja and 60 was required from the final eight overs with just two wickets left.

Heskett made a vital 26 before he was run out with eight needed.

Harlow's anxieties were eased as Khawaja smashed Jeremy Mordrick for a six over the huge long off boundary.

The next ball was pushed for one ensuring the scores were tied.

Zap Nazir found himself at the crease for his first bat of the season but a leg-side wide sealed victory for the Marigolds side.

● HARLOW (236-7) defeated Harlow Town (233-4) by three wickets at home in the annual Proudlock Cup match on Sunday.

Harlow will visit Leigh-on-Sea in division two of the Shepherd Neame Essex League this Saturday.

HAC running out of help

HARLOW Athletic Club are in urgent need of middle-distance runners to make themselves more competitive in division three north of the Southern Men's League.

Only six athletes were fielded by Harlow so to finish third out of four teams in their second men's match at Bedford was a tremendous achievement.

Harlow team captain Dave Bauer said: "We are dropping points by not being able to field athletes in the middle-distance running events."

"We need to some middle distance runners to come forward to represent Harlow."

Good weather conditions and strong opposition from divisional leaders Bedford and highly-rated Belgrave and Milton Keynes resulted in a high-quality event.

Glen and Carl Paxman covered several events, while there were excellent performances from Steve Down and Ian Smith on the track and Dave Bauer and Paul Avontuur in the throwing events.

Harlow managed three wins.

One came from Bauer in the A-string discus with a 40.28m throw.

This puts him 6th in the country in the M40 rankings. "This shows a good return to form for Dave coming back to competition after two years of injury," said men's team manager Catherine Bauer.

The other wins were claimed by Carl Paxman in the long jump (B, 5.85m) and Down, who cruised to victory in the 400m hurdles (1 min 4.3 secs).

Down also came second in the A 110m hurdles in 20.8s while Glen Paxman, above, was second in the B (21.5s).

Glen covered 13 events and covered for Chris Clark in the discus who was unwell.

The team were also missing Steve Lott due to illness.

Glen's fast 11.7s in the A 100m and respectable 24.3s in the A 200m still only resulted in third places.

The 400m saw Glen take second place (A, 54.7s) and Carl Paxman finished third in the B 400m (56.5s).

Carl threw close to his personal best (PB) in the javelin with 41.17m for second place in the A string event.

In the B 400m he was third (56.5s), second in the B high jump (1.40m), third in the B pole vault (1.10m PB), second in the B triple jump string (11.55m).

Smith ran 24.6s for a good second place in the B 200m.

Glen ran an excellent last leg in the 4x400m as Harlow took second place by a nose from Milton Keynes in a time of 3:49.2. Bauer also threw a season's best of 33.16m in the hammer.

Bauer added: "It was great to get the all important third place but, also frustrating as if we had two more athletes out we could have easily come second and beaten Belgrave."

Despite finishing third, Harlow dropped from 8th to 9th in 17-team division three north.

"We don't have the strength in depth to be promoted and then to stay up in division two, so need to make sure we at least stay in our division."

"All respect goes to Glen and Carl for battling for every point in the match."

Other results: Ian Smith B string 100m 4th 12.3s; Paul Avontuur B hammer 3rd 19.94m; Glen Paxman B javelin 3rd 34.86m; Paul Avontuur A shot 4th 8.78m; Glen Paxman B shot 3rd 8.60m and B discus 3rd 22.72m.

4x100m relay 3rd 49.9s. Result: Bedford 123, Belgrave 80, Harlow 64.5, Milton Keynes 54.5.

Duo shine for club in women's league

MARLEEN Avontuur and Isobel Moss claimed victories when Harlow Athletic Club competed in a Southern Women's League division one north match.

Saturday's event at the Mile End Stadium in East London saw Marleene (13) come first in the A string 1,500m in 5 mins 24.5 secs (U-15 category), while Isobel (14) won the B 1,500m event in 5:31.3.

Isobel was the third in the B javelin when she recorded a personal best (PB) throw of 7.39m and also came second in the B long jump with a leap of 3.54m.

In a strong field, Marleene came 6th in the A discus with a throw of 18.35m and Eleanor Moss (12) set a PB of 13.38m when she came 4th in the B discus.

In the A javelin, Eleanor threw 12.89m to come 6th.

Although only in her first year of athletics and being an U-13 athlete, Sade Akinkunmi (11) came 4th in the U-15 A 800m (her first competitive outdoor 800m) in 2:43.7.

Her previous best indoor time had been 2:53.3.

Marie Agyare, (11), also in her first year and also an U-13 athlete, trimmed her PB by 0.3s to clock 14.9s in the 100m. She also set a PB of 4.67m in the shot put.

Returning from injury, Eloise Lott (12) set a PB of 15.1s in the B 100m and a PB of 3.61m in the long jump.

Gina Bailey and Judith Moss respectively completed in the 3,000m events. Gina clocked 15:24.5 (5th) and Judith recorded 18:55.95 (3rd) in the senior athletes category (over-15s).

In the discus event, Henry Moore School student Gina was 7th in the A (19.89m) and Judith was 6th in the B (14.41m).

In the final event, the 4x100m U-15 relay, the team of Isobel Moss, Eleanor Moss, Marleene Avontuur and Eloise Lott were 6th from eight sides in 62.4s.

Harlow team captain and coach Ted Cole said: "It was good to see so many PBs. Sade Akinkunmi did very well in her first ever outside run."

Harlow Town won by seven wickets

Herts & Essex Cricket League, division one

HARLOW Town share top spot with Ilford Catholics after they beat them in a very tight match thanks to a courageous knock from Ramya Upadhyay.

He shook off heat exhaustion towards the end as he guided Town to a home victory with just two balls to spare.

Chasing a modest total of 182 on Saturday, Town started slowly and had crawled to 70-2 from 30 overs, leaving themselves needing 112 to win off the final 15 overs.

But, Upadhyay started to take the attack back to the Ilford bowlers and was still there at the end with an unbeaten 75 which completed a fine all-round performance.

He received good support from Pat Yates (58) before it was left to Scott Alderson to hit the winning four which gave Town their third league win.

Earlier, Upadhyay also proved effective with the ball, taking two wickets and keeping the Ilford batsmen in check.

Other wicket takers for Town were Marc Lowers (3-35) and Simon Rowell (2-23).

Meanwhile, Harlow Town II (165-5) won by five wickets against Ashdon (164) in division three thanks to a swift 47 not out from Darryl Pettengill.

In division six, Harlow Town III (121-5) overcame Birchanger II (118) by 5 wickets and in division three, Potter Street (230) lost by two wickets against High Beach (232-8).

In division seven, Potter Street II (143-3) beat Little Munden (141) by seven wickets at home.

JASON McNally's Harlow remain top of division two after a narrow victory at Buckhurst Hill courtesy of a majestic unbeaten 153 from Ahmed Khawaja.

Khawaja's second league hundred this term meant the Marigolds men avenged the Essex League Cup defeat against Buckhurst Hill earlier this month.

James Butler, Harlow's wicket-keeper, said: "Ahmed's innings was perhaps the best knock I have had the fortune to witness.

"He flayed some of the biggest sixes I have ever seen, with what turned out to be a bat that he had broken on about 80! It was a brilliant effort and it's great to have him in our side."

Harlow lost the toss and fielded. The first bowling change had an immediate effect as Andy McGarry forced Whorlow to nick one behind to Butler for 12 and McNally had Rohan Bhorne caught by Luke Heskett for 24.

Hawks' J-force

Town boss hopes to sign trio

HAWKS boss Kevin Warren hopes to complete his J-force for next season after capturing the signing of Jon Stevenson and forward Jeff Hammond, while striker Jamie Richards has told the Star he is in two minds about re-joining the Barrows Farm club.

Richards, who helped Ian Allinson's Boreham Wood to promotion into the Blue Square South last term, was a fan's favourite at Harlow Town and figured strongly in the club's excellent FA Cup run in 2008-09.

The 28-year-old, who lives in Woodford, is set to give an answer to Warren in the next couple of days.

He is not expected to remain at Boreham Wood due to the travelling next season, which would not combine well with his top job as a money broker in the City.

Richards has also attracted interested from Billericay Town and Hornchurch.

"I will be speaking to Billericay and Hornchurch. My heart is with Harlow but my head says I might like to play at a higher level. In a way it is a year too soon for me. I am set to make a decision at the weekend," he said.

"I know Kevin Warren and have played against him. He knows what he's talking about and what he wants.

"Things have gone on at Boreham Wood that I am not happy with. I missed more games last season [through work commitments] than before - it's a heavy commitment to be in that league," he added.

Warren is excited by the return of Stevenson, who can play in defence or midfield, and the capture of Hammond from Hitchin Town. Stevenson was at Harlow under Glen Alzapiedi during the latter stages of the 2008-09 campaign.

"We are not going to beg for players. Jeff and John wanted to come on board straight away. I have always liked Jeff. He has a good work rate and is quick," said Warren.

Harry (13) beats snooker legend Davis

HARRY Green tasted fame again when he beat former six times World Champion Steve Davis in a frame of snooker!

The 13-year-old Mark Hall Sports College student - who beat top pro Jimmy White in December - took on Davis in a snooker exhibition at Harry's home club, Chelmsford. Davis (52) who won the World title six times between 1981 and 1989 and recently reached the last eight in the World Snooker Championship, took the lead with a 41 break.

Harry fought back well and trailed 58-41 with only the blue, pink and black on the table.

Harry then snookered Davis behind the black. After four foul attempts to hit the blue, Harry led 61-58. Harry potted the blue the full length of the table and tucked away the pink and black to win 72-58, sparking cheers from the 200-strong crowd which included Chelmsford pro and World top 10 player Ali Carter.

Davis said: "It would be great to see Harry as a professional on the TV as he is an absolute star round the table." Richard Green, Harry's father, said: "I am absolutely ecstatic. He did very well and showed the benefits of his practise."

Earlier, Paul Burton (13), also from Harlow, faced Davis.

Davis was on for a maximum 147 break at one stage. He was on 87, having potted all the reds and blacks when the break ended.

Paul battled well, but could not match his pal Harry's achievement. "Paul did well to get points after Steve's break," said Richard. Both Paul and Harry won the chance to play against Davis by entering competitions at Chelmsford over the past three months. Seven frames were up for grabs but none of the other five winners could beat Davis.
